

ABSTRACT

Strong trajectory attractors for the dissipative Euler equations

We consider the dissipative 2D Euler equations with periodic boundary conditions in the standard energy phase space where the gradient of the velocity field is square integrable. We prove the uniqueness and the energy equality on the properly defined trajectory attractor and based on that fact establish that the attraction to that attractor holds in a strong topology.